LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. Sallie Murphy, of Augusta, was the guest of Mrs. V. C. Addison last week.

Miss Marie Abney will return from Savannah to-day, accompanied by Mrs. Mauer Lawton and her sweet little daughter.

Mrs. E. J. Mims and Mrs. S. L. Nicholson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ready on Saturday and Sunday last.

Miss Miriam Rice, who resides at Oia, Barnwell county, spent last week in Edgefield at the home of her brother, Capt. S. M. Rice.

Rev. Graves L. Knight of Graniteville has been called to serve the Baptist church at Trenton during the ensuing year.

The difference between a Jew and a lawyer is that one gets his law from the prophets and the other gets his profits from the law.

Mr. J. D. Bartley came up from Johnston on Saturday last and carried his mother, Mrs. M. A. Bartley, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Reel, back with him to spend some time.

Mr. Orlando Sheppard will attend a meeting of the board of trustees of Connie Maxwell Orphanage which will be held in Columbia on Friday just prior to the convening of the annual state convention.

Fresh Buckwheat and New Crop Syrup just received.

Wilbur S. Mitchell who killed James Trotter in Columbia during the fair has been granted bail. The body of the deceased young man engaged Hon. J. Wm. Thurmond to assist in the prosecution.

Work on Mr. Geo. F. Mims' suburban home, located in North Edgefield, is progressing rapidly, and unless something now unforeseen occurs to retard the workmen it will be entirely completed by the first day of the new year.

Leggett's Fine Roasted Coffee 15 to 30 cents per pound at TIMMONS BROS.

According to the government report of the cotton that has been ginned, there were 24,092 bales ginned in Edgefield county up to November the 14th. During the same period last year 23,167 bales had been ginned and 18,670 in 1903.

Our friend John Scoury, the efficient steward of the County Home, has sent us six and three-quarter yards of rich, sweet, juicy, well-seasoned sausage. My, wouldn't the Advertiser household have a good, old-time Thanksgiving breakfast!

On Sunday afternoon Mrs. N. M. Jones and Mrs. W. A. Hart returned from the hospital in Augusta. It gives us pleasure to chronicle the fact that both of them are improving rapidly and will soon be well and strong again.

We guarantee tires on all Mitchell Wagons to run 4 years without shrinking.

The band that accompanied the attraction "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" enlivened things greatly on our streets Saturday afternoon. All from the picaresque on the streets to the most dignified citizens, enjoyed the popular airs. There is local talent enough in Edgefield to organize a good band. By all means our town should have one.

Read the advertisement of Mr. G. D. Mims in this issue. It will be of especial interest to those who are in the market for farming implements, etc.

Mr. W. H. Dorn has received a letter from Mr. T. B. Lanham stating that he will spend the Thanksgiving season with friends and loved ones in Edgefield. This intelligence will cause many hearts to rejoice.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Timmerman have the sympathy of our entire community in the death of their sweet little infant daughter on Friday last. The delicate little form was interrupted by loving hands at Barr's Chapel on Saturday morning.

Rev. C. E. Burts will leave tomorrow to attend the Baptist state convention in Columbia. On account of his absence there will be no preaching in the Edgefield Baptist church on Sunday next.

The officers and members of Gilgal are requested to meet Rev. P. P. Bialock at Berea church on Sunday next in order to arrange a program for the next annual meeting which will meet at Gilgal on the 5th Sunday in December.

Just received Fresh Citron, Currants, and Raisins.

G. L. PENN & SON.

A steamer arrived at Charleston a few days ago from a Cuban port with a cargo of 400,000 coconuts aboard. These figures are almost inconceivable. Certainly embrosia and other like delicacies ought to abound during the Thanksgiving season.

The Advertiser is better equipped now than ever before for turning out first-class printing of all kinds. New type, and ornaments have been installed, also a large supply of up-to-date material has just been received. Do not send work out of town when it can be as cheaply and satisfactorily done right at your door.

City council did a good thing when they drew a tight rein on the habit of keeping stores open and selling on Sunday. This State of affairs had gotten entirely too common here.—Barnes Herald.

Concerning the matter of selling merchandise on Sunday let a little tighter rein be drawn in Edgefield.

The farmers of the entire cotton belt have received great benefit from the efforts that have been put forth by the Southern Cotton Association and ought cheerfully to aid in defraying the expenses of the work. The farmers of Darlington county have contributed $600, which is about 40 cents per bale, for this purpose. Edgefield should do her share.

If buying new buggies and wagons can be taken as an evidence of prosperity, the colored people of this section are riding upon the crest of the wave of general prosperity. It would not surprise us to see some of them discard old "Baalam" and come to town on Saturday afternoons in horseless carriages. There would be automobiles galore throughout the county if they could be bought on "leens."

Just received fresh supply Seed-ed Raisins, Currants Citron, Nuts, Spices, etc.

The state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will be held at Johnston this week, beginning on Thursday. The people of Johnston, especially the ladies, have made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the eighty-odd delegates who will be in attendance from all parts of the state. Rev. P. P. Bialock has been invited to deliver the address of welcome in behalf of the local ministers. He and Mrs. Camilla Bialock will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner.

As we go to press, Tuesday afternoon, The Episcopal ladies are serving turkey and ham and salads and cakes and bounties and ices and many other nice things in the Parker building for the benefit of their church.

In spring you hear marvelous fish yards and in autumn you hear great reports from the market. The best day's gunning these tar ported (and this is a fact) was that of Mr. J. F. Atkins, who with Dr. Eugene Murphy and some other friends, went out for a day last week. They bagged 60 fine partridges. What say Joe Mays and Joe Holland to this?

Mr. Charles A. Brunson has been engaged as salesman by Von Camp, Vaughn & Gerald, of Augusta, and will be pleased to have his Edgefield friends call upon him. He will also give special attention to all mail orders that are sent him. In serving his friends Mr. Brunson will extend every accommodation possible.

Mr. R. H. Mims—Edgefield's artist and photographer, who is the peer of any in the large cities—photographed the elegant mansion of Mrs. Mattie Caughman a few afternoons ago. And it has been many a day since we saw a finer picture. The architectural beauty of the house is made to stand out clearly and boldly.

At this season, when the crops have all been converted into cash, a great number of people have some money left over after paying all indebtedness. While the majority act wisely by depositing this surplus money in bank for safe keeping, some hide it away in a stocking, drawer or old trunk where the burglar is liable to get it or the building burn and destroy it. If you have a few dollars that you do not need from the habit of depositing it in the bank. There it is absolutely safe—in your home or on your person it is not safe.

Just received a car each of Rock Hill, Hackney and Chase City buggies, also a car of Old Hickory wagons. We are in a position to make very close prices.

RAMSEY & JONES.

Twice each year—in July and at the Thanksgiving season—the members of the Edgefield Baptist church, besides their regular contributions for benevolence, make special contributions to the Connie Maxwell Orphanage. There is no cause fostered and supported by the church which appeals with greater force to every heart, and for this reason these special collections are always generous, and given with a rare spontaneity. The sum of $115.00 has been forwarded this week by Mr. O. Sheppard, the treasurer of the church, to the orphanage.

Rev. Royal Shannonhouse, rector of the Church of Nativity, has resigned his rectorate here and will leave the first of December here for Edgefield to which place he has been assigned by Bishop Capers who esteems him highly.

Many friends made here in his stay of fifteen months will deeply regret the departure of Mr. Shannonhouse, for by his genial manner, kind heart, and devoted work he has attached many to him. Edgefield will gain an excellent minister and a good man.—Union Times.

Farmers Called to Meet.

The farmers of Edgefield county are hereby requested to meet in their respective townships on Saturday, December the 2nd, and elect delegates to the county meeting which is to be held in the court house on Monday, the 11th of December. This county meeting is a very important one and all farmers are urged to attend. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

S. T. Williams, President.

Edgefield's Heavy Cotton Receipts

Either more cotton has been produced in the county this year than last or the high price that has prevailed on the Edgefield market has caused cotton to be brought here that in the past was carried to other places. The receipts to date, according to the records of Mr. Cheatham, the public cotton weigher, aggregate upwards of 7,000 bales, which is more than was received here during the entire season of 1904-05. During the last three seasons the Edgefield buyers have left no stones unturned to make this rank among the leading markets of this section, and the steady increase in the amount of the staple that is brought here shows how admirably they have succeeded.

Union Thanksgiving Service.

The pastors of our town have arranged for a union Thanksgiving service to be held in the Methodist church on Thursday morning at eleven o'clock. Instead of a regular sermon the hour will be taken up with prayer, praise and short informal talks from all of the pastors. Unfortunately—because business is generally suspended on Thanksgiving day—many regard it as a holiday, when it should rather be observed as a holy day. It is earnestly desired that this special service shall be largely attended. Certainly every heart should feel prompted to render thanks to the Great Giver of every good and perfect gift. At the close of the service a collection will be taken which will be divided among the several orphanages that are supported by the denominations of our town. Go prepared to give liberally to this very worthy cause.

An Important Mass Meeting.

At its regular meeting on Friday afternoon last the town council, after discussing the need of a more abundant water supply and better lighting facilities for our town, decided to call a mass meeting of the entire citizenship of Edgefield, to be held in the court house on Monday night next. This occasion will afford an opportunity to determine what the sentiment is. Whether it be for lights or water, or both, also whether it be undertaken by the municipality or whether it is the wish of our citizens to grant a franchise to a private corporation.

The council has acted wisely in calling this meeting. The gentlemen into whose keeping have been committed the affairs of the town stand ready to carry out the will of the people if it be in their power to do so. After a full and free discussion of these important matters by the leading citizens those in authority can proceed advisedly.

"SAVED MY LIFE"

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.
